8 History

The technical committee was created in 1947. The 8th plenary meeting of ISO/TC 12, Quantities, units, symbols, conversion factors, and conversion tables, was held in Copenhagen, DK, 1978, hosted by DS, Danish Standards Foundation, at that time holding the Secretariat of ISO/TC 12, with Mrs. Vibeke Simonsgaard, DK, as Secretary.

In 1981 a new edition of ISO 31, Quantities and units, was completed and in 1982 the second edition of ISO HANDBOOK 2, Units of measurement, was published.

In 1982 the Secretariat of ISO/TC 12 was transferred to from DS to SIS — Swedish Standards Institute and Mr. Anders J Thor, SE, was appointed as the new Secretary. Since pocket calculators had then become common “and conversion tables” was deleted from the title of ISO/TC 12 and the corresponding SC 1 was dissolved. At the same time ISO/TC 12 got its first permanent Chairman, Mr. Henning H jgaard-Jensen, DK. Later the title of ISO/TC 12 has been shortened to Quantities and units.

Very soon after the transfer of the Secretariat to Sweden the revision of ISO 31 was started. All parts of the last edition of ISO 31 were published in 1992 and in 1993 the third edition of ISO HANDBOOK 2 was published. At the same time Mr. Henning H jgaard-Jensen retired as Chairman of ISO/TC 12 and was replaced by Mr. Max McGlashan, GB. When Mr. Max McGlashan passed away in 1997 he was replaced as Chairman of ISO/TC 12 by Mr. Gunnar Petersson, SE.

In 1998 a short version of the ISO HANDBOOK 2 was published in English as the SI Guide. It is a small Guide in A6 format. It has been translated into several languages and published by many P-members of ISO/TC 12. A second edition of the SI Guide was published in 2008.

In 1997 ISO and IEC agreed to establish a harmonized International Standard, ISO/IEC 80000, Quantities and units, to replace ISO 31 and the general parts of IEC 60027, Letter symbols to be used in electrotechnology. The 14 parts of ISO/IEC 80000 were completed and published during 2006 - 2009.

At the end of 2009 Mr. Gunnar Petersson retired as Chairman of ISO/TC 12 and was replaced by Mr. Anders J Thor and Mr. Sven Radhe, SE, was appointed as Secretary of ISO/TC 12.

2012-04-07 Mr. Anders J Thor passed away and Mr. Göran Grimvall was elected to take on the chairmanship for the remainder of the term.

2013-01-10 Mr. Leslie Pendrill, SE, was appointed to chair the committee.
